

I am very distressed to learn that the FCC commission is planning to make large scale decisions on Broadcast Ownership, Docket-02-277, with little public input.

I urge you to not vote on this important bill on Monday but to postpone the vote until a thorough research on it's ramifications can be done. The public also needs to be more informed and the FCC needs more public input before you make such an important decision. If you choose to vote on Monday, I urge the commission to all vote no to these changes. The public needs to have more access to local programing, not less. Large corporate takeovers of the media are not the answer in a democracy such as ours.

Ken Salonen